AN EXTRA SESSION

Talk of One to Dispose of the Reapportionment Bill in Legislature.

The Local Option Bill Reported Without Expression This Morning in the House.

ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS UNTIL MONDAY

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21.—The house committee reported the re-districting bills today. A petition is being circulated for a joint caucus Tuesday night on the re-districting question. The house is said to oppose the proposed re-apportionment, and there is now talk of an extra session to dispose of it.

There were several new house bills today.

The legislature has accepted the invitation to attend the Mayville tobacco fair tomorrow. It adjourned today until Monday.

The Farris local option bill was finally reported this morning without expression, and buried beneath bills in order of the day.

The Byron bill, providing for official publication in newspapers of commissions and other court sales, was considered. The bill is the measure endorsed by the Kentucky Press Association.

Senator Byron made a strong speech favoring the adoption of the bill.

Senator Puryear opposed the bill. He explained his opposition by saying that he was for "the common people rather than the country press," and that he was not a candidate for congress and didn't want to subsidize the press of his district. He said he fought such a measure during the reconstruction days in Arkansas. Senator Carroll also opposed the bill.

Senator Farris spoke earnestly for the bill.

Senator Byron again took the floor, and responded vigorously to the speech of Senator Puryear. He said that Kentucky was not living in the days of reconstruction, but of progress, and pointed out that Ohio, Illinois and other states now have a law similar to the one proposed. He moved to make the bill a special order for next Tuesday. The senate so ordered and then adjourned. Many senators crowded around the senator from Craven and congratulated him on his able speech.

The Barton labor bureau passed the house.

The senate committee reported adversely the capitol removal bill, thus ending the removal controversy.

The senate committee reported favorably the bill to place the charitable institutions under a central board.

The senate committee recommended the removal of the Hopkinsville asylum commissioners. It is made a special order for Tuesday.

CASE AFFIRMED

MAYFIELD WATER COMPANY LOSSES IN THE COURT OF APPEALS.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21.—In the appellate court this morning the judgment of the Graves circuit court in the case of the Graves County Light and Water company against Ligon, Allen and Co., for $12,000, was affirmed.

Suits were brought against the company some time since for damages from fire resulting from a failure on account of a break down to furnish water during the big fire. There was a confessed judgment for $12,000, and it was agreed that certain other suits should go as the court of appeals decided the case. The decision today means that the Water company will probably have to pay other large judgments.

In the appellate court the case of Friedman against Janssen, from McCracken, was affirmed. The suit was on plans of a St. Louis architect for a new brewery that was never built.

TRAGEDY AT HENDERSON.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 21.—At Elliott's factory at noon Henry Davis shot and killed his brother-in-law, Emmet Dixon, aged fourteen. They were negroes, and he claims the shooting was accidental.

Jesse Thomas, the nine-year-old daughter of a well known farmer, was frozen two miles from home, she started from home to the store late yesterday evening.

FIRST DAY'S SESSION

About Two Hundred Delegates in Attendance and More Coming.

Mr. Nunemacher, of Louisville, is Presiding—Proceedings of Today's Session.

A BIG BANQUET THIS EVENING

A service of song, followed by an address on "The Purpose, Plan and Achievements of the County Work," by Robert Weidensall, secretary of the international committee at Chicago, with an address by Vice President John C. Welling, of the Illinois Central, Chicago, on the railroad work, will make this evening's session an important one.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

The religious services were conducted by General Secretary W. E. Abbott, of Nashville, Tenn. Quite a crowd of delegates were present when the services began at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. J. A. Stuckey of Lexington, who was to have led, was not present.

Following the song service came a brief prayer service, in which many participated.

Following this came an introductory service, led by Mr. C. C. Stoll of Louisville, at which the various delegates stated their names, residences and length of time they had been connected with the association, and their positions in the respective associations. This consumed considerable time, and was for the purpose of making the members better acquainted with one another. Some of them had been members for as long as thirty-five years, while many of the delegates are small boys, who have been members but a few months.

The committee on permanent organization, appointed last night, reported through the chairman, Mr. W. L. McNeal of Bowling Green, the following nominations, which were unanimously concurred in:

President, F. C. Nunemacher, Louisville; vice presidents, J. Whit Potter, Bowling Green; B. H. Scott, Paducah; secretary, P. C. Dix, Henderson; assistant secretaries, E. B. Cartright, Vanderbilt Training School; F. L. Lewis, Greenville; press secretaries, John Lake, and S. H. Jones, Louisville; W. N. Ewald, Covington.

The newly chosen president was introduced by Mr. Stoll, and in a brief speech thanked the convention and promised to do all in his power to advance the work.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

This afternoon the first thing on the program is "Bible hour," led by Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, of Indiana. At 3:30 the department conferences will take place, lasting until 5:30.

Notwithstanding the decidedly inclement evening a large crowd was present at the Broadway Methodist church last evening to witness the opening of the twenty-first Y. M. C. A. convention of Kentucky. The song service led by Mr. Harry Maxwell of Indiana, and the Henderson glee club gave much pleasure. The Henderson Glee club, which numbers twenty-six young men, and has a state reputation, also rendered some special selections that were received with applause.

In the absence of the president of the last state convention, Dr. Sevier of Lexington, the president of the preceding state convention, Mr. Charles C. Stoll of Louisville, called the convention to order, and presided during the evening. The scripture was read by Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, and several prayers were made by visiting secretaries.

The annual report of the executive committee was made as follows: "The first year of the new century has been marked by the most substantial and gratifying advance the Young Men's Christian Association movement in Kentucky has ever seen. Truly, the year has been unparalleled in the development and extension of the association cause in the state.

The total number of the associations in the state is fifty-four, with a membership of 5,586. Their current expenses last year amounted to $53,602.48. Five buildings are owned, valued at $120,000. Ten associations have gymnasiums, and twelve report boys' departments, with a membership of 466. "Special study has been given by the state committee during the year to the religious work of the associations, and the policies outlined and recommended, together with the religious work institutes held by the committee in most of the city, town and railroad associations mark a forward movement in the religious work throughout the state.

"The steady increase in the number of secretaries in Kentucky is a good indication of the growth and strength of the work. In 1889, when Mr. Rosevear began work as the first state secretary in Kentucky, there were two secretaries and three assistants in the state. Today there is a total of thirty-eight men employed by the associations as secretaries, assistants and physical directors, a gain of ten during the past twelve months.

"The state committee has been called upon to render special service in financial emergencies with several of the local associations. Three of the city associations, Owensboro, Paducah and Frankfort, have thus been placed upon a sounder basis than has been the case for several years.

"The expenses of the state work for the year ending February 1, 1902, amounted to $9,240.69. The committee has received in subscriptions a sufficient amount to provide for the year's work.

"The committee has also received and disbursed as a trust fund $1,025 for the association foreign work, and

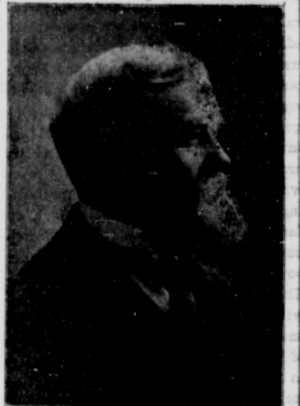

Rev. W. E. Biederwolf of Indiana, who conducts the Bible Hour each afternoon of the Convention, and later will have charge of the Union Revival Service in this city.

$1,836.41 for the erection and equipment of the railroad department building at Corbin.

"The state committee would again invite the attention of its friends to the desirability of an endowment to the state work.

"Your committee would recommend that, at least nine thousand dollars be raised for the state work of 1902, that its good work may be pressed.

"As a convention made up of the representatives of different local associations, you are brought face to face with larger opportunities and greater responsibilities than ever rested upon a Kentucky state convention before. There are more associations which are becoming intelligently acquainted with association work, more possities in international development than ever before. "An Aggressive Religious Work Campaign in Every Kentucky Association," Mr. Chas. C. Stoll of Louisville addressed the assembly on "The Need and Opportunity," and in a clever and able manner told where are the greatest needs and what opportunities are for association work. His remarks were attentively heard, and elicited great praise.

Don O. Shelton, secretary of the religious work department of the International Committee, of Young Men's Christian Association, spoke on "An Aggressive Religious Work Campaign in Every Kentucky Association: Agencies and Methods." Mr. Shelton dwelt upon four important agencies. The first was Gospel meetings for young men. These, he said, should arouse men. By prayer and toil make their character such as will arrest interest. They must be so spiritual, so pointed, so full of the real Gospel of Christ, that men will be aroused from the sleep of indifference. The addresses should be plain, practical, vehement. The speakers should speak as men to men and speak the gospel message as if they believed it. Nothing will so awaken and hold men as the true gospel of Christ when made known in the power of the Spirit of God by true servants of Christ. Bible classes for young men was the second agency dwelt upon by Mr. Shelton. He said that strenuous, continuous effort must be put forth to show men how much they may gain by the systematic study of the Scripture. He showed that the efficiency of each association depends upon its having in its membership a large number of faithful, obedient students of Scripture. He stated that no organization connected with the church of Christ has a better opportunity for the promotion of Bible study than the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Shelton referred to the steady, encouraging growth in the enrollment in Association Bible classes throughout North America from 13,676, in 1900, to 19,180 in 1901. He said that the enrollment in Kentucky associations in 1901 was 323, and he urged each delegate to go back to his association determined to work hard to double the enrollment, in the Bible classes of the spring season. Mr. Shelton said that associations in Kentucky recently visited by him, at Mayville, Louisville, Frankfort, Henderson, Owensboro and the county associations at Greenville and Central City, are now at work to accomplish this high aim.

"Another essential agency, in every association," said Mr. Shelton, "is a personal workers' group. Form a company of men who will seek by their prayers, their lives, their words, to lead individuals to faith in Christ and into the membership of the church. Vast masses of unconverted men can be reached only by this means. There are multitudes who seldom, if ever, attend religious meetings, but they do come into contact, almost continually with professed disciples of Christ." The latter, Mr. Shelton said, are under obligation to God to do their utmost to lead individuals to faith in Christ.

"The fourth important phase of the religious 'activities' of the association, to which Mr. Shelton referred, was the great enterprise it has undertaken for carrying the Gospel to young men in non-Christian lands. He said that this vastly important work was undertaken by the Young Men's Christian association at the definite and urgent request of representative missionaries of the Protestant churches.

"As a result of these requests," said Mr. Shelton, "twenty-six secretaries have gone out from America, all of them college men of superior ability, to engage in this aggressive forward movement for these millions of men who are like scattered, imperilled sheep, shepherdless, leaderless, Christless." Mr. Shelton dwelt upon the substantial progress made since this work began about fifteen years ago and made special reference to the bright outlook in China, where the able representative of the Kentucky associations, Mr. Fletcher W. Brookman, is now national secretary. Mr. Shelton said that every Christian man in the Kentucky associations should promptly and joyously take an active share in this divine enterprise.

At the close of Mr. Shelton's address there was a general conference on the important topic conducted by Mr. Shelton, in which the delegates took part, closing the forenoon session.

The illustrated address of Mr. L. Wilbur Messer of Chicago on "A World Wide Movement," was a delightful feature of the evening, and was listened to with rare pleasure. With a number of beautiful stereopticon pictures, he rapidly sketched the growth of the Young Men's Christian Association from its birth in England on up to date. Mr. Messer is a cultured speaker, and while he spoke in the dark entirely, he did not leave his audience in that condition. Mr. Messer is a native of Pennsylvania, but has had charge of many of the most successful Young Men's Christian Associations in the country, and had been instrumental in their upbuilding. He is now general secretary of the work in Chicago.

The Hopkinsville cadets will arrive here this afternoon to attend the convention, and will contribute no little to its enjoyment and success. Yesterday's Hopkinsville News Era says: "Through the influence of Mr. Harry G. Tandy, former assistant secretary of state, the cadets of South Kentucky college have secured from the state armory at Frankfort sixty new guns and side arms for their Paducah trip. These equipments have been shipped to reach here tomorrow morning. An effort will be made to obtain the consent of Adjutant General Murray for the cadets to have the permanent use of the guns."

CONVENTION COMMENTS.

The singing of the convention is certainly a splendid feature. Mr. Maxwell knows the art of inspiring every one with a desire to add his voice to the general fund.

The patriotism of the convention is all right. This was evidenced by the applause last evening which greeted the pictures of President McKinley, the flag, and Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson. President McKinley's noble face seemed to smile a benediction on the gathering.

It is not Mr. Charles C. Stoll's first experience of presiding in Paducah. He was the president of the State Epworth League convention here some years ago, and is most pleasantly remembered. Mr. Stoll is a splendid presiding officer, easy, affable, and ruling with dignity.

Secretary A. Knox of Frankfort, and Rev. E. B. Ramsey of Fulton, two former Paducahans, were quite surrounded by their friends last night. Both are exceedingly popular here and looked very much at home.

State Secretary H. E. Rosevear is about the busiest man of the convention but always has time to be agreeable, which is a secret of his ever-growing popularity and charm.

The decorations of the Broadway Methodist church are very effective and have received much praise. The Y. M. C. A. colors of blue and white are in evidence, and various emblems of the work are used. Mr. Edward Bringham and Mr. Claude Baker had the work in charge and deserve much credit for its success.

The Henderson Association male chorus is furnishing the music, under the direction of Mr. Harry L. Maxwell. Mrs. S. H. Winstead is organist.

There are about 100 of the delegates here, and coming for whom no homes could be found and who will be sent to the hotels and boarding houses.

The weather has certainly been neither kind nor pretty to the convention, but Paducah is hardly responsible for that and would have had a better sort if her bidding had been

all. We are connoisseurs of weather, down this way. Having had nothing else of late.

The Business Men's Banquet this evening at 5:30 will be a pleasant means of making the delegates and the local Y. M. C. A. members better acquainted.

Rev. Frank Thomas of Henderson is one of the distinguished visitors in the city. Mr. Thomas is one of the most eloquent orators of Kentucky, and has several times preached here. He served as chaplain of the Third Kentucky regiment in the Cuban war.

Those who are entertaining delegates are asked to remember that none of the delegates will be at supper tonight, as they are to attend the banquet at the Christian church.

The street car company has distributed a number of complimentary tickets to the delegates, so they can see the city, and get to and from their temporary homes with ease.

REVIVES OLD ORDER.

GENERAL MILES REQUIRES ASPIRANTS FOR LIEUTENANCIES TO PASS TWO EXAMINATIONS.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A general order issued by Lieutenant General Miles, commanding the army, directs a return to the former system of a departmental examination and a subsequent competitive examination in the case of all enlisted men who desire to compete for appointments as second lieutenants in the army. From 1900 up to the present time the preliminary examination has been dispensed with, leaving only the final competitive examination. Under the present order only those enlisted men who pass the department examination will be eligible to the final competitive examination.

AFTER A CONSULATE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Dr. W. B. Mooney of Louisville wants to be appointed consul in some foreign country. Senator Blackburn called on President Roosevelt and asked that a satisfactory place be found for him.

The age has many problems, but the problem of the age is the young man.

—A World-Wide Movement.

LAST OF SCHLEY CASE.

The decision of President Roosevelt in the Schley case is a dignified, forcible and impartial document, and is a credit to him. There is a total absence of sickly sentiment in it, and there is not a single point that is not clearly established by the evidence before the court of inquiry. He takes the position first that the court of inquiry did substantial justice in dealing with the facts. The court should have specifically condemned the failure of Admiral Schley to enforce the night blockade at Santiago, although there is doubt as to whether the ships were moved too rapidly or too slowly from port to port. Schley's retrograde movement, when he abandoned the blockade in disobedience of orders, and his mis-statements of the facts, are among the most reprehensible of his mistakes. Yet the fact that Schley was not called to account shows that any error that may have been committed was thus condoned.

The President, as all other fair minded men, thinks the court of inquiry might have considered the question of who was in command, and who was entitled to the credit, but it did not. This evidence, although of the greatest importance, and bearing on the case to a considerable degree, was excluded, and Sampson's side of the controversy was not allowed to be presented at all.

The President finds further that when the battle of Santiago opened, the American ships all started towards the Spanish ships in the order outlined in the standing order of Admiral Sampson. Technically, then, at least, Sampson commanded the fleet, and could have ordered it to any place at any time Schley was conducting the battle. The most important fact, it is made plain, was that after the battle was joined, not a helm was shifted, not a gun fired, and not a pound of steam put on in the engine room of any ship actively engaged, in obedience to the orders of either Admiral Sampson or Admiral Schley, except on their own two vessels. So far as the active fighting was concerned, it was a battle of the captains. They did not conduct it according to Schley's orders; then why should he claim the credit of the victory any more than Sampson? Sampson never claimed the credit. He never stirred up the whole country like a piqued school boy, and after a court of inquiry of his own selection had conducted the inquiry, excluded all the evidence that might have been introduced by Sampson and rendered a decision against him, he never went to the President with his troubles.

The President thinks the Brooklyn loop was the gravest mistake of the day, and he ends in his review by declaring that there is no further excuse from either side for a further agitation of the subject. He might have added that there never was, and that the country, the people, the Democratic party and Admiral Schley himself would have been better off if there had been none.

The Schley controversy was a stupid mistake from the first, and a man of intelligence should never have allowed himself to be dragged into it. At the bottom of it all has been one thing—politics. There were many misgivings when President Roosevelt was first asked to review the case and settle it, but his reply has been so lucid, fair, and in accordance with undisputed facts, that there can no longer be any doubt as to who is entitled to credit for the battle of Santiago.

As the Sun said months ago, it was largely the men who did the fighting, no matter which of the admirals was in command.

THE ATTACK UPON THE GERMANS.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

Nobody will attempt to indict the entire Democratic party for the ill manners of one of its members, Wheeler, of Kentucky, in his gross insult to Prince Henry and the German element of the American population. It will be noticed, however, that all the bores and demagogues are Democrats. One of Missouri's members of congress, a Democrat, of course, made an attack the other day on the administration at Washington for determining to have this country represented at the coronation exercises in England a few months hence, and pretended that the Republican party was trying to subvert Republican ideals in this country.

The particular style of attack adopted by the Kentucky boor is especially common with Democrats. "What do we care about the good will of the German people?" exclaimed Wheeler. "Why should people fall over themselves to see a little Dutchman come over here to take charge of a little ship?" A short time ago when the Globe-Democrat pointed out some mistakes that some of the Daughters of the Confederacy made in their assertion that Missouri favored secession in 1861, one of the Daughters retorted that the anti-secession vote was principally made up of the "Dutch." This is a common epithet as applied to the Germans by persons of the Wheeler order and of the Wheeler party.

Wheeler's violation of good manners has already had some political consequences which he did not foresee, and probably for which he does not care. It stopped the Democrats from all attempts to obstruct the revenue reduction bill in the house this week, and thus let it pass immediately and by a unanimous vote. The leaders of the Democrats in the house feared that in a discussion of the bill some of the Republicans might mention the Kentucky Democrat's clownishness, and thus add to the derision which the vast majority of sane Americans have for the Democratic party of today. It is possible that Wheeler's district will give him another term in congress, for it is overwhelmingly Democratic in politics, but he is a person of whom decent Democrats all over the country ought to be ashamed.

TO SETTLE THE COW QUESTION

The city council of Paducah does not seem disposed to wrestle with the Town Cow question. The last heard of a request to enact the necessary measures to protect yards and flowers was when it was referred. It is still "referred." It appears that every time the cow question comes up in the council, a few cow owners hasten to the councilmen and begin whining about being poor and having to keep a cow. They soon delude the councilman, who is usually a very sympathetic, as well as unsophisticated man, into believing that every one of his constituents owns a cow, and that to vote to keep cows up will be to vote to take bread and butter out of the mouths of the widow and orphan.

These cow owners are simply working the sympathy racket. They only want to keep up their uncivilized practice of turning their cows loose to prey on the public, make the city look like a village, devastate yards and make themselves otherwise disagreeable. People who can afford to feed a cow are well enough off to buy milk and butter instead. But even if they were not, it would not make it right for them to keep something that has for the past several years been a nuisance and a detriment to the general public.

If the city council hasn't enough backbone to tackle the cow question, it should do like the council at Union City, Tenn. The members, in order to get shut of the vexed question, have called a primary for March 1st to determine by vote the will of the people on the cow question. If the majority favors the present law, which prevents cows running at large, the law will stand. If not, it will be repealed by the council, and cows again be permitted to run at large.

DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE.

The state legislature is trying to increase the tax rate. Its only plea, or that of the Democratic organs that are trying to condone it, is that it has to increase the rate to raise money enough to pay off debts contracted through Republican extravagance. This is sheer mendacity. When Governor Bradley went out of office he left about $300,000, and when Governor Taylor went out he left $350,000. The Democrats have since appropriated $100,000 as a reward fund to persecute their political enemies, and have given other unmistakable evidences of having money to burn. If the Republicans left the state in such a fix as the Democrats profess to believe they did, it is all the more reason why such extravagance as appropriating $100,000 for a reward fund, and placing every institution and fund in the state in charge of an overpaid commission, no doubt to be composed of politicians who are in favor with the gang, should have been passed up by the Democrats. Instead, they have been doing nothing but wasting money and planning to waste more money, ever since they went into office. The present effort to increase the tax rate is simply to get more money to squander. If it is necessary, it was made so by their own extravagance, not by the extravagance of the Republicans. And the indications are that the systematic robbery that characterized other Democratic administrations was nothing to that which is coming. Let the people of Kentucky look at the increase in tax rates that is proposed to be made by the men now in the legislature, demand to know why, and if they find out their eyes will be opened to the most daring attempt of the Frankfort gang to loot the treasury.

Mothers can safely give Foley's Honey and Tar to their children for coughs and colds, for it contains no opiates or other poisons.

FOUGHT ON STREET.

WILL JOLLY SERIOUSLY SHOT LAST NIGHT BY FRANK BUCKNER.

Frank Buckner, alias Buckley, and Will Jolly, colored, engaged in a difficulty last night about 6:30 o'clock at Ninth and Washington streets and Jolly was shot in the right groin and leg twice by the other.

The wounded man informed the police that he and Buckner and two others were engaged in a crap game, and he was losing steadily when he discovered that the others were using "loaded" dice on him. He reached over and seized the money declaring that he would not be robbed, and they followed him to the street, where Buckner demanded the return of the money, at the same time beginning to shoot.

Jolly fell and Buckner escaped. The victim came near dying from loss of blood before Dr. Robertson arrived.

GOLDEN CONVOCATION.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 21.—Over 1,600 prominent Masons have registered here at the Scottish Rite Cathedral up to today for the golden convocation of the rite of the Valley of Cincinnati which was established in this city fifty years ago. While prominent Masons attend this convocation yearly there never was such an attendance as this week.

Among those present is Dr. J. Diaz Prieto of Mexico. The thirty-third and thirty-second degree men are present from all parts of the country. The program covers four days and includes excellent music and all the pomp and ceremony of the best ritualistic work.

PARALYSIS STRIKES

JUSTICE GRAY.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Justice Horace Gray of the supreme court has suffered an attack of paralysis, but it is stated that there is every reason to expect his recovery. The attack occurred Tuesday night. His mind is clear, but he has lost the muscular control of a part of his body. Justice Gray has been unwell for some time, and his advanced age, seventy-four years, gave rise to some apprehension as to the outcome, although his family says the attack is not serious.

EGGS HIGHEST IN TWELVE YEARS.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Eggs are being brought to Chicago from California to supply local demands. Prices have reached 33 1/2 cents, the highest since 1899, when they sold at 35 cents a dozen. There were 3,000 cases in yesterday, but this was less than 50 per cent of the receipts for the same day last year. Dealers in discussing high prices told about sales being made for a number of days in 1873 at 80 cents a dozen. A snow storm then blocked the railroads and checked receipts.

CAUGHT AT KNOXVILLE.

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 21.—Charles M. Drye, for whose arrest Governor Beckham of Kentucky offered a reward of $300, was arrested here this morning. Drye is said to have been one of the men in Turner's quarter house fight, near Middleboro last Wednesday, but he claims he had nothing to do with it. He admits he conducted a restaurant in the lot near the quarter house, but states when he saw the officer's posse coming he ran over the hills. Drye is a negro.

SHOT A GRAY EAGLE.

Hickman, Ky., Feb. 21.—Dr. Hugh E. Prather of Hickman brought into town a gray eagle. Dr. Prather was making a professional call a few miles above town on the Mississippi river, and saw the eagle perched in the top of a large tree. It required but one shot to bring the eagle to the ground. He brought his game to town and, measuring it, found him to be seven feet from top to tip.

THE STONE QUESTION.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—The state department's advice concerning Miss Stone indicate that the Paris publication to the effect that she has been set at liberty is to say the least premature. It is thought, however, that the woman is likely to be released soon, and that the delay is explained by the requirement of the brigands that they be given ample opportunity to insure their own safety.

ELECTED ITS OFFICERS.

The Mechanics' Building and Loan Association last night elected directors for the ensuing year as follows: E. G. Boone, Judge Bethshares, John Rock, W. A. Gardner and F. M. Fisher. SINKING INTO THE OCEAN.

PROMINENT LOUIS.

VILLIAN DEAD.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 21.—W. P. Clancy died suddenly last night on a house boat in Florida, where he went recently on account of his health. He resigned three weeks ago as manager of the Louisville Packing Co., on account of his health.

Miss Enah McKinney, the trained nurse, returned last night from Ogden.

BRAIN FOOD

IS OF LITTLE BENEFIT UNLESS IT IS DIGESTED.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact, everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe, outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands, increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestive; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

THE OTHER ONE.

MR. CHARLES WEILLE COMPLETES THE BOARD OF LIBRARY COMMISSIONERS.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser has now appointed the last of the five library commissioners or trustees and it is Mr. Charles Weille the well known, popular and progressive young clothier. Mr. Weille will make one of the most invaluable members of the board for he is a hustler and is thoroughly up to date wherever he is placed.

The other members are: Former Mayor James M. Lang, Rev. G. W. Perryman, Mr. Ed P. Noble and Mr. Henry Savage. The board will meet for organization after the appointments are confirmed by the council.

OLLIE MACK

SENDS ANOTHER GOOD COMPANY TO PADUCAH.

By some mistake the pictorial printing for Ollie Mack and James E. English, the big production of that famous farce, "Finnigan's Ball," did not reach Paducah in time to be displayed on the bill board, consequently the management of The Kentucky decided to call attention to this attraction through the advertising columns of our paper. In this connection we wish to say that we are assured by Manager English that in order to show the people of Paducah how good "Finnigan's Ball" is, he has decided to give a grand bargain matinee at 2 p. m., Saturday, with 25 cents admission for either children or adults to any part of the house. Everywhere "Finnigan's Ball" is playing to $1 price, but as Manager English realizes that Paducah people will turn out more freely when prices are moderate, he has decided to have the night prices from 25 cents to 75 cents for best seats. Seats will go on sale tomorrow morning for both matinee and night performance Saturday.

"Finnigan's Ball," is the vehicle by which Murray and Mack were carried to the front ranks in the farce comedy field, and there are no better known stars in their line of work to day than Murray and Mack. They have two worthy successors starring in "Finnigan's Ball," Moran and Murphy, who are almost as well known as Murray and Mack. Manager English would like to have the Paducah people see what a good farce comedy is, and feels satisfied that "Finnigan's Ball" will meet with all their critical requirements.

Winter coughs are apt to result in consumption if neglected. They can be soon broken up by using Foley's Honey and Tar.

THE ELKS.

A NEW FEATURE MAY BE ADDED TO THE BIG CARNIVAL PARADE.

Secretary Nunn of the Elks carnival committee is in receipt of a letter from Deutschmann Brothers of New Orleans, who propose to put on in the big jubilee parade a series of magnificent floats, such as were furnished at the New Orleans Mardi Gras recently. Nothing definite has yet been arranged by the committee.

Last night there was a meeting of the Elks, and Assistant Postmaster John Fisher was initiated.

A THOUSAND DOLLARS

THROWN AWAY.

Mr. W. W. Baker of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had little trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low, and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did; and thanks to this great remedy I saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar, and would ask those afflicted to try it."

J. C. GILBERT.

IS IMPROVING.

Will McClure, who was painfully cut by Lock Brown near Boaz, Graves county, a night or two ago, is improving. The boys had been to Paducah and got drunk, and McClure had a rib cut in two and a gash cut in his left lung. No arrests were made and Brown claims the cutting was accidental.

A NIGHT ALARM.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell, and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier of Manassas, Ky., writes: "My three-year-old girl had a severe case of croup; the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar; the first dose gave quick relief, and saved her life." Refuse substitutes.

OOM PAUL MAY COME.

Brussels, Feb. 21.—It is said in Boer circles that if Messrs. Wolmarans and Wessels, after investigating the situation in the United States, advise Mr. Kruger that a tour of the United States would be beneficial to the Boer cause, he will overcome his aversion to a long trip and undertake the journey.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

AGAIN CONTINUED.

Smithland, Ky., Feb. 21.—Will Morley, who shot little Ira Driskill, was taken before County Judge Evans and the case again continued until the 26th of this month, on account of his victim being unable to be present.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough caused by attack of la grippe. It heals the lungs.

Observations

....at Random

A little girl of eight years went to the dentist last week to have a tooth examined. The tooth was one of the child's first and had been pushed nearly out by the second which had been striving to come forth for some time. The tooth could have been extracted with the fingers but the little girl could not muster up courage enough to perform the operation. The dentist upon examination found that there would be very little trouble, and without using the forceps pulled the tooth from the gum. The child did not know it was not until she felt the opening with her tongue and then she set up a yell that could have been heard for blocks. Nothing could comfort her and she was left to have her cry out. She knew that the tooth must hurt, because it was out.

Several nights ago a well known young man of the city started the household in a most peculiar manner. He had been to the theater and had gone to a restaurant and taken lunch with a little spirit on the side. The spirits got his head slightly twisted and when he went home he saw all kinds of things. Upon reaching the paternal domicile, he paused at the gate to steady himself and then ascended the steps. Quietly he opened the door and walked in. The gas was turned low in the hall and upon mounting the stairs he saw what he thought to be a burglar in the end of the hall. Grasping up several umbrellas from the hat rack in the hall he demanded in his most stentorian tones to know "who was there?" This he repeated in additional shouts, and in an instant the household was aroused and out to see the trouble. They found the young man standing in the middle of the hall with two umbrellas in his hand, his hat mashed all out of shape and his shoes half off. There was every evidence that there had been something doing, and the young man was forced to retire in disorder, and without the burglar.

The other night some well known society people asked a lady friend who is prominent in church and charity work, to accompany them to the theater. She declined and added: "I never go to the theaters."

The crowd thought that maybe she intended it as a roast and concluded to get even. After the show, and after most everybody else was in bed, they went to the opera house, took the small bill boards that set out front, and hauling them to their friend's house, left them, ablaze with their flaming posters, on her front porch. She was certainly as much surprised the next morning to awake and find them staring them in the face as they were ending their way to church advertisements of the latest coming attractions. The boards were later carried into the back yard, and the jokers will probably have the plank turned on them when Manager English finally finds out what has become of his bill boards, and compels them to bring them back.

There are many narrow escapes at railroad crossings that are never heard of. An engineer on a freight train was running between here and Memphis last week when he had a narrow escape from killing a man. He was going at a high rate of speed several miles below Fulton, when just as the crossing was reached a farmer's team with a driver in the wagon came dashing down the road at full speed. The farmer could not manage the horses but was desperately doing all in his power to turn them from the train. The train was long and the team was within a few feet of it. Fortunately one of the lines broke just in the nick of time, and turned the animals aside as the last car passed. But for this fortunate occurrence the team would have struck the train and the horses and probably the driver killed.

The most reliable preparation for kidney troubles on the market is Foley's Kidney Cure.

The Skin AN INDEX TO THE BLOOD

Millions of little glands or tubes connect the blood with the skin, and through these small drain pipes perspiration passes out, carrying with it the impurities that are thrown off by the blood. Should the pores of the skin be entirely closed for even a brief space of time, and the poisonous matter forced back into the circulation, instant death would result. In addition to the sweat glands, the skin is provided with certain others which pour out upon it an oily substance, keeping the skin pliable and soft and protecting it from heat and cold. The blood and skin are so closely related that whatever affects one seriously interferes with the functions of the other. Not only health, but life itself, depends upon perfect harmony between the blood and skin. When, therefore, the blood becomes poisoned from any cause, it quickly manifests itself upon the skin in the form of sores and ulcers, pimples and various eruptive diseases. By the character of the sore we are enabled to determine the nature of the poison or humor in the blood, as every disease originating in the blood has its own peculiar sore or pimple. The skin is not only affected by the poisons generated in the system, but poisons from without enter through the open glands or pores and quickly infect the blood. Mercury rubbed upon the skin will produce Rheumatism, and Poison Oak and Ivy without enter through the open glands or pores and quickly infect the blood. As so-called "pure blood" of powders, soaps and washes can do no permanent good, but often do immense damage by closing up the outlet to these little tubes between the blood and skin. When, therefore, the natural action of the skin. The treatment must begin with the blood, and the acid or other poisons antidoted or neutralized. S. S. S. does this and purifies the circulation, builds up the blood and flushes the little glands or pores with pure, new blood, and restores healthy action to the skin. The use of cosmetics never yet brought health and beauty to a rough, red, pimply skin or sallow complexion. What is needed is rich, pure blood, such as S. S. S. makes. It not only relieves you of all disgusting blackheads, blotches and irritating itching eruptions, but improves your general health. S. S. S. contains no toxic drugs, no acids or other mineral, but is a health-giving vegetable remedy and the best and best in all blood and skin troubles. Write our physicians for advice, or mail them a study of blood and skin diseases, and you can have the best medical advice without cost. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

WEDDED AT ALAMO.

Fulton, Ky., Feb. 21.—Dr. George P. Weeks, of Water Valley, Ky., and Miss Eva Johnson, of Alamo, Tenn., were married at the home of the bride in Alamo. The marriage was quite a surprise to everyone, even the close relatives of each.

An Ex-Congressman's Wit.
John Allen, formerly the wit of the House, and now a member of the St. Louis Exposition commission, entered the hall of the House on a recent Tuesday. He was dressed in the tip-top of fashion. Together with Marcus Aurelius Smith, delegate from Arizona, Allen surveyed the assembled congressmen. "Rather a mixed lot," was Smith's comment. "Yes," assented Allen. "And to think," he added reflectively, "that for many years I associated with these people on terms of equality!"—Washington Post.
